Unlike the citizens of the 12 Districts of Panem, Capitol citizens are not obliged to watch The Hunger Games. However, we can assume that details of tributes’ progress would be reported in newspapers and magazines to inform and entertain Capitol citizens.

Task:

To produce a front page newspaper article for the Capitol Chronicle, informing citizens of the ‘final 3’ combat and the subsequent District 12 victory.

1: Think of a catchy, dramatic headline. Use alliteration if you can. For example:

DISTRICT 12 DOUBLE! THRESH THRASHED! CATO’s CAREER CRUSHED!

2: Sum up the main events in a couple of sentences. Your summary should make the events sound dramatic to encourage readers to read on!

3: Now write a paragraph about each of the following:

- the Feast at the Cornucopia
- Clove’s death and why Thresh spared Katniss’ life
- the body armour worn by Cato - a gift from a sponsor?
- the release of the Wolf Muttations - contestant DNA
- details of the ensuing combat - Peeta’s X on Cato’s hand
- how Cato is attacked and, later, killed.

4: Include quotes from the following characters:

- Effie Trinket
- President Snow
- Haymitch Abernathy.

5: Include an image and add a caption.
